Initiated by: Film Club and Department of Mass Communication

Presided by: Dr. Ajims P Mohammed, Principal

Welcome by: Prasoon Tp, Department Head

Total Films Screened: 8

Event Highlights:

Faris, with his wealth of experience, graced the occasion as the Chief Guest, adding a valuable dimension to the festival. Dr. Ajims P Mohammed, in his role as the Principal, presided over the event, emphasizing the cultural significance of cinematic exploration within an academic setting.

Prasoon Tp, Head of the Mass Communication Department, extended a warm welcome, setting the stage for two days of cinematic immersion. The collaboration between the Film Club and the Mass Communication Department showcased a synergy that ensured the success of the festival.

Cinematic Showcase:

The festival featured a diverse selection of 8 films, each carefully chosen to provide a rich cinematic experience. The opening cinema, "My Neighbour Totoro," set the tone for the festival, captivating the audience with its enchanting narrative and visual brilliance.

Open Forum and Engaging Discussions:

An open forum conducted on the first day allowed attendees to actively participate and engage in discussions about the films screened. This interactive session created a dynamic space for sharing perspectives, insights, and fostering a deeper appreciation for cinema.

Culmination:

The Film Festival, a convergence of creativity and academic initiative, left an indelible mark on the college community. The successful collaboration between the Film Club and the Department of Mass Communication underscored the commitment to nurturing cultural exploration within the college.

As the curtains closed on the two-day celebration, the Film Festival not only provided a platform for cinematic appreciation but also fostered a sense of community and shared cultural experience among students, faculty, and film enthusiasts alike.
