

MES Asmabi College, P Vemballur

UGC /CSIR NET Coaching-English

Report on UGC/CSIR NET Coaching in English & General Paper

Venue: Seminar Hall

Date: 20/01/24 to 31/01/24

Time: 09:30 am to 04:30 pm

The UGC/CSIR NET Coaching in English and General Paper was organized by MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur, funded by the Minority Welfare Department, aimed to provide guidance to NET aspiring students. The coaching classes commenced on 20/01/24 and concluded on 31/01/24.

Faculty and Class Structure

The Literature Classes conducted by Mr. Manosh Manoharan, drew the participation of 50 enthusiastic students. The sessions delved deeply into the UGC NET syllabus for Literature, providing a comprehensive analysis of literary trends, critical theories, and historical perspectives. His expertise and enthusiasm of the student community fostered an intellectually stimulating environment, emphasizing a nuanced understanding of the subject matter. This segment of the coaching programme not only covered the requisite material for the UGC NET examination but also enriched the students' grasp of literature across various dimensions.

Ms. Neena Kannan led the Examination and Question Paper Discussion segment with precision and expertise. Examinations were also taken to assess the knowledge level of students. Her sessions were also dedicated to imparting effective exam preparation strategies, with a particular emphasis on literature-specific nuances crucial for success in the UGC/CSIR NET examination. The classes facilitated rigorous discussions and in-depth dissection of previous years' question papers, providing students with valuable insights into the examination pattern, question formats, and the expected depth of analysis. Ms. Kannan's approach ensured that students not only acquired theoretical knowledge but also honed practical skills, enhancing their overall readiness for the challenging examination.

Crash Course on General Paper, under the expert guidance of Mr. Dennis Jose, featured diversified participation, attracting students from various PG departments. Mr. Jose curated a comprehensive learning experience that went beyond the specific confines of individual disciplines. The course aimed at developing a holistic understanding of the general paper section, emphasizing the integration of knowledge from diverse fields. This inclusive approach not only broadened students' perspectives but also equipped them with the interdisciplinary skills necessary to excel in the UGC/CSIR NET examination. Mr. Jose's commitment to fostering a well-rounded educational experience was evident in the engaged and varied participation throughout the course. Examinations were also conducted at the end of the day.

The UGC/CSIR NET Coaching at MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur, stands as a testament to the institution's commitment to academic excellence. The amalgamation of dedicated faculty, diverse class offerings, and the active involvement of students across disciplines contributed to the resounding success of the coaching programme. The college received Rs.79500/- as financial support from the Minority Department and the total expenditure incurred is Rs.78314/-

This comprehensive report provides an insightful overview of the coaching conducted at MES Asmabi College, showcasing the institution's dedication to nurturing intellectual growth.

Thank you for your attention to this detailed report.

MES Asmabi College
P. Vemballur

 &

Minority Welfare Department

12-DAY FREE
UGC NET
COACHING

Sub: English & General Paper

 20/01/2024

 Seminar Hall

 9:30 am - 4.30 pm

Principal
Dr A Biju

Coordinator
Mona V M
7736364688

Brochure

Dr. Maneesh Manoharan Handling Class

Fourth Day Net Coaching Class

Fifth Day of NET Coaching Class

Signature of the Coordinator

Seal

Signature of the Principal