Date: 20th June 2022

Time: 10:30 AM

Venue: Seminar Hall, MES Asmabi College, P Vemballur, Kodungallur

The Post Graduate and Research Department of English at MES Asmabi College, P Vemballur, Kodungallur, organized a one-day national seminar on 'Research Methodology in English Studies' on the 20th of June 2022. The seminar aimed to provide insights into effective research methodologies and approaches for scholars and students in the field of English Studies. Dr. M Ashitha Varghese, an esteemed Assistant Professor of English from Bharathiar University, Coimbatore, was invited as the resource person for this event.

Inaugural Session:

The seminar began at 10:30 AM in the well-appointed Seminar Hall. The attendees included faculty members, postgraduate students, and researchers from various educational institutions. The event commenced with a warm and insightful welcome speech delivered by Dr. Reena Mohamed, the Head of the Department of English at MES Asmabi College. Dr. Mohamed's address set the tone for the seminar, emphasizing the importance of research methodology in English Studies.

Resource Person's Presentation:

Dr. M Ashitha Varghese, the resource person for the seminar, took the stage and delivered a comprehensive and engaging presentation on research methodology in English Studies. Her presentation covered various aspects and perspectives related to research methodology, offering valuable insights and guidance to the attendees. Dr. Varghese illustrated her points with several case studies, making the content relatable and practical for the audience.

Throughout her presentation, Dr. Varghese emphasized the significance of selecting the appropriate research methods, designing effective research questions, and conducting comprehensive literature reviews. She also discussed various data collection and analysis techniques relevant to the field of English Studies. Her expertise and engaging delivery captivated the audience and enriched their understanding of research methodology.

Release of Previous Seminar's Proceedings:

As a part of the event, Dr. Varghese had the honor of releasing the proceedings of the department's last national seminar. This gesture highlighted the department's commitment to academic research and knowledge dissemination.

Closing Remarks:

Following the informative presentation, Dr. Amitha P Mani, the coordinator of the seminar, delivered a vote of thanks to express gratitude to all the participants, the resource person, and the organizing team for their contributions to the successful execution of the seminar. Her closing remarks acknowledged the importance of the seminar and encouraged further exploration and application of the research methodologies discussed.

Conclusion:

The National Seminar on Research Methodology in English Studies at MES Asmabi College was a significant and enriching event. Dr. M Ashitha Varghese's insights and guidance on research methodologies provided valuable knowledge to the attendees. This seminar not only enhanced the understanding of research methodologies in English Studies but also served as a platform for academic exchange and networking.

The event was marked by intellectual stimulation and offered attendees a wealth of information and practical advice for their research pursuits in English Studies. The success of this seminar underscores the importance of such academic gatherings and reaffirms MES Asmabi College's commitment to fostering research excellence in the field of English Studies.
