Conducted by Ms. Saliha P I, Librarian, MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur

Organized by the Research Department of Commerce and Management Studies, MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur, in collaboration with IQAC

Date: 10th November 2023

Introduction: On 10th November 2023, the Research Department of Commerce and Management Studies at MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur, organized a one-day workshop on the topic "Guidelines for Ethical Conduct of Research." The workshop was conducted by Ms. Saliha P I, the esteemed Librarian of MES Asmabi College. The event was held in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the institution.

Objective of the Workshop: The primary objective of the workshop was to enlighten the second-year M.Com students on the crucial aspects of ethical conduct in research. Ms. Saliha P I, with her expertise in research ethics, aimed to provide insights into the ethical considerations that researchers must be mindful of during the entire research process.

Participants: The workshop saw active participation from the Research Scholars and second-year M.Com students of MES Asmabi College, P. Vemballur. The enthusiastic engagement of the students added vibrancy to the event, fostering a conducive environment for learning and discussion.

Content and Structure: Ms. Saliha P I, with her comprehensive knowledge, structured the workshop to cover key aspects of ethical research conduct. The topics covered included:

- 1. Introduction to Research Ethics: Ms. Saliha initiated the workshop by providing a foundational understanding of research ethics. The session addressed the historical evolution of research ethics and its contemporary significance.
- 2. Ethical Principles in Research: The workshop delved into the core ethical principles governing research, such as honesty, integrity, transparency, and accountability. Ms. Saliha emphasized the importance of upholding these principles to ensure the credibility and reliability of research outcomes.
- 3. Informed Consent: The session on informed consent elucidated the significance of obtaining voluntary and well-informed consent from research participants. Practical examples and case studies were employed to illustrate the ethical implications associated with consent in research.
- 4. Data Management and Confidentiality: Participants gained insights into the responsible management of research data and the importance of maintaining confidentiality. Ms. Saliha highlighted the ethical considerations related to data collection, storage, and dissemination.
- 5. Plagiarism and Citation Practices: The workshop addressed the perils of plagiarism and stressed the importance of proper citation practices. Ms. Saliha elucidated the ethical dimensions of giving credit to the intellectual contributions of others.

Interactive Sessions: Throughout the workshop, Ms. Saliha encouraged active participation and engaged the students in interactive discussions. Case studies and real-life examples were incorporated to facilitate a practical understanding of ethical dilemmas in research.

Conclusion: The one-day workshop on "Guidelines for Ethical Conduct of Research" proved to be a valuable and enriching experience for the second-year M.Com students of MES Asmabi College. Ms. Saliha P I's expertise and engaging presentation style created a conducive learning environment. The insights gained from this workshop will undoubtedly contribute to the participant's ability to conduct research with the highest ethical standards.

Acknowledgements: The Research Department of Commerce and Management Studies expresses gratitude to Ms. Saliha P I for her valuable contribution to the workshop. Special thanks to the IQAC for their collaboration in organizing this insightful event. The active participation of the students is also acknowledged.
